UPDATE: Potential Buyer has removed name from consideration. Gave a good summary of condition of property, as "unsellable". Will follow-up with county tax manager who forwarded property for consideration to determine other alternatives. (See below)

1. The property is on Big Ridge Road in the Shootout Mountain Subdivision
2. The lot number is B209. The lot numbers are marked on white pvc pipes along the road. We could not find the B209 lot marker, but we found B208 and B213, and were able to narrow it down. Big Ridge Road is a very steep, very narrow gravel road – one lane only. 4-wheel drive is recommended even in good weather, required in less than perfect conditions.
3. Lot number B209 is extremely steep. There is not a flat spot on it that I could see. It is populated with rhododendron and boulders. It is so steep you cannot even walk up on the lot itself. The view is nice.
4. Shootout Mountain Subdivision has no POA Dues, but there is an annual $300 per year road maintenance assessment ($200 if it is a vacant lot). So – you should be prepared for a bill for that within the next year.
5. I would think the best potential buyer for this lot would be another lot owner in the same subdivision, particularly somebody on either side of it, but anyone who is comfortable with the road situation up there.
6. The subdivision is populated with a number of seasonal cabins and some rustic mountain homes. There does appear to be power into the subdivision and into fairly near the lot in question. I'm not sure about water and septic.
7. Access to and from the subdivision is good. 226 to Bean's Creek Road. We took 197 up from Burnsville and it was a beautiful drive. Everything but the last mile or so is great. It would be almost impossible to get to the lot safely in snow or ice.

UPDATE: Discussion needed regarding disposition of the property in the future. Invoice for road maintenance assessment of $200 has been received and paid. UPDATE: Real Estate committee will approach neighbors to the property in an effort to sell property.
